Hongkong, April, 3rd, 1880. THE Authorities in California seem deter mined to make that State as uncomfortable a residence for Chinese as possible. No content with passing a law forbidding public officers or corporations to employ Chinese; measures have since been taken to interfere with their peculiar mode of life in San Francisco. As most of our readers are doubtless aware, the Chinese quarter is in the heart San Prancisco, and is confined to comparatively few blocks, but is densely crowded On the 21st February, at a special meeting of the San Francisco Board of Health. a Committee appointed to investigate the condition of the Chinese quarter presented its report. This was a lengthy document which set forth "that Chinatown has laws, customs, Courts, and institutions of its own and utterly at variance and dangerous to the health, morals, and prosperity of the city; that the committee found it unnaturally crowded: that some 30,000 Chinese live main! in the space bounded by California, Mont goniery, Broadway, Dupont, and Kearney streets; that the sanitary condition of that quarter is a disgrace to civilization; that by reason of gross violations of the Fire Ordinances the exemption of the city from conflag. ration is simply amazing; that large numbers of Chinamen suffering from the most loath. some diseases are found in all portions of Chinatown, left to die in loncliness and want, in the most inhuman manuer; that the social evil is most fiendishly illustrated; and that the Chinese population of this city is in | We are requested to state that Divine Service Gunner McArthur, St. ft. 11 in...... anges passed to preserve the health and cleanhness of the city." The report concludes as follows:-"It is the opinion of your Committee that the time has come. The Chinese cancer must be cut out of the heart of our city, root and branch, if we have any regard for its future sanitary welfare. will be a mercy to the Chinese themselves as well as to our people to compel them to live in healthier conditions. We wish them no harm, and would inflict on them no hardship. but with all the vacant and healthy territory around this city, it is a shame that the very and interesting character, whilst amongst the -centre be surrendered and abandoned to the health-defying and law-defying population We, therefore, recommend that the portion of the city here described be condemned as a nuisance; and we call upon the proper authorities to take the necessary steps for its abatement without delay." The report was: unanimously adopted, and the Chinese quarter declared a nuisance. Of course this result was hailed with rejoicing by the anti-Chinese journals, but the leading paper, the Alla, expressed the opinion, which all sensible and reasonable—people "in California will echo," that while all the citizens of San Francisco desired to see the nuisances abated, "no man who man," no "decent American" wished to see the Chinese oppressed or injured, and nothing was to be gained by any attempt to force the settlement of the question by violence. A correspondent of the same journal makes some pithy remarks on the report of the Committee of the Board of Health and asks the following pertiment questions :- "Is the violation of a city ordinance by an individual the creation of a local muisance? THE EUPHRATES VALLEY ROUTE TO INDIA.

A paper on the above subject was read on th 18th February by Mr. W. P. Andrew at a meet ing in the hall of the Society of Arts. Adelph. under the presidency of Lord Strathnairn. Hay of a railroad as invaluable aid in thwarting an Mr. Andrew said that, apart from its strategi advantages, troops from England might be des natched thereby at any season of the year Viewed in this light, the Euphrates route pr sented a striking contrast to that via Egyp which could not be used for this purpose withou sacrifice of life owing at times to the excessive tent of the fied Sea. Moreover, the opening t this means of communication would afford, be hought an additional guarantee for the integrity of the Ottoman Empire, besides enabling us mere easily to discharge the grave responsibilities we ad incurred in our virtual protectorate over Asia Minor. Summing up the general features of his scheme, the lecturer said that it would not only enable our troops to be landed at Kurrachee in about fourteen days, but would subject an memy advancing towards the north-western rontier of India to easy attack on their flank and rear. The length of the proposed railway from Alexandretta, on the Mediterranean, to Grain, on the Persian Gulf, would be about 920 miles; while the capital required would be under £1,000,000. In the discussion which followed Sir H. Tyler said he thought that the time had arrived when this scheme should be seriously considered, not only by our Government, but by European Governments generally, so that the Euphrates Valley route might be adopted as an international highway. Sir H. Drummond Wolff, M.P., concurred in the views expressed as to its importance in supplying an effectalt means of checking the probable designs of Russia with regard to India. Commander Cameron, on the other hand, claimed for the Tigris route greater value than that which was advocated by the lecturer, remarking that the Euphrates flowed through an unproductive country. Mr. Hanbury, M.P., said that his experionce led him to endorse the opinion expressed as to the Tigris route, adding that Tripoli was a much better harbour than Scanderoon. Mr. Scott-Russell maintained that it would materially advance the views of the promoters if they would discard their present title and adopt in its place that of "London, Constantinople, and Indian Junction Railway," or some similarly comprehensive title. In his opinion the idea of despatching vessels to the ports which had been nentioned in order that the proposed overland route might be utilized was impracticable and commercially unsound.

EXTRACTS. MILES REOCH'S HORSE On the bluff of the lattle Big Horn At the close of a wooful day, Custer and his three hundred. In death and silence lay, Three hundred to three thousand! They had bravely fought and bled; For such is the will of Congress. When the White Man meets the Red. pho White Man are ton millione The thriftiest under the sun; The Rede are fifty thousand, And warriors overy one. So Custor and all his fighting mon Lay under the evening skice, Storing up at the tranquil heaven With wide, accusing oyes. And of all that stood at moonday. In that fiery ecorpion ring. Miles Keogh's horse at evening, Was the only living thing. Alone from that field of slaughter, · Whore lay the three hundred slain, The horse Comanche wandered,

With Keogh's blood on his mano. And Stargis issued this order. Which future times shall read, While the love and honour of comrades Are the soul of the soldier's creed. He said : Let the horse Comanche.

Honceforth till he shall die, Be, kindly cherished and cared for By the Seventh Cavalry. He shall do no labour; he shall never know The touch of spur or rein; Nor shall his back be ever crossed By living rider again. And at regimental formation Of the Seventh Cavelry, Comarcho, draped in mourning and led By a trooper of Company I, Shail parade with the regiment! Commanded, and thus done, By order of General Sturgis, signed. By Adjulant Garlington. Even as the sword of Custer,

In his disastrous fall. Flashed out a blaze that charmed the world And glorified his pall. This order, issued amid the gloom That shrouds our Army's name, When all foul beasts are free to rend.

And tear its honest fame, Shall prove to a callous people That the sense of a soldier's worth, That the love of comrades, the honour of arms Have not yet perished from earth. -February Atlantic.
